33 Represent University In Who's Who

• THIRTY-THREE STUDENTS will represent the University in the 1955-56 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Selected by the Student Life Committee, the students have been chosen on the basis of qualities of leadership, activities, scholarship and future potential.

Committee Members

Members of this year's committee include: Dr. James Coberly, associate professor of American literature, Miss Virginia Kirkbride, Director of Women's Activities; Dr. Don C. Faith, Director of Men's Activities; Dr. Muriel H. McClanahan, associate professor of English composition; Mr. John Kaye, associate professor of mechanical engineering and six student leaders.

Students elected receive a certificate of recognition, a write-up in the "Who's Who" publication for the year they are selected and the benefits of the student placement service provided by the organization if they wish assistance in obtaining future employment.

Campus Leaders

Among those elected this year are members of the Student Council, editorial boards of campus publications and the Panhellenic Council. Also represented are members of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa. As in past years, the University has selected its full quota of students.

Pictures of those elected appear on the inside pages of this edition of the HATCHET.

Hall Reaches Second Floor

• THE UNIVERSITY'S new Tompkins Hall of Engineering will be ready for occupancy by next fall.

Construction has been progressing rapidly. Concrete for the first floor has already been poured, and the forms for the second floor are almost ready. Materials—steel, wire, limestone and marble—have been rolling in at a great speed.

When finished, the building will be completely air-conditioned and filled with the very latest in engineering equipment. Everything in the new building, including the freight elevators and the television-equipped classrooms, will be automatic.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held last April. Mr. Charles H. Tompkins, who is donating the building, was present with other University dignitaries. Mr. Tompkins' construction firm is building the structure and Mr. John Toomey is in charge of construction.

After completion, the one million dollar building will have a basement and mezzanine, in addition to its four main stories. The lobby, hallways and doors will be trimmed with pink marble, and the large glass windows with aluminum.

A landscaped terrace, with concrete walks veneered in brick, flowers, shrubbery and lawns will encircle the building.

Plans for the modern building were drawn up by Faulkner, Kingsbury and Stenhouse.

Costume Ball Highlights Winter Weekend Feb. 10

• A FULL MASK Mardi Gras Ball and a jazz concert featuring Wild Bill Whelan and his Dixie-Land Five will highlight the all-new 1956 Winter Weekend.

Phyllis Mignone, co-chairman, gave the following line-up of events planned for the University's first Winter Weekend, February 10 to 12.

The weekend will get under way Friday night with a costume ball. Everyone will be requested to come in full costume and mask. Saturday afternoon there will be a two-hour jazz contest at Lisner Auditorium. Chick Wayne and his quintet will compete against Bayou's Wild Bill Whelan and his Dixie-Land Five. Chick Wayne will offer his own rendition of modern against the

Rag Doll

• THE RAG DOLL King and Queen have been announced. Pi Kappa Alpha's candidate, Dotty Mansfield, and Pi Beta Phi's candidate, Bill Dunning, have been chosen the 1955 King and Queen. The PIKA's, who contributed four and a half boxes of clothes, were awarded a carton of Marlboro cigarettes donated by the Philip Morris student representative, Ernest Auerbach, as the top contributors. PIPhi contributed 2 and one eighths boxes.

Dixieland jazz of Wild Bill Whelan. The Wayne Quintet has played at many University affairs, including this year's Freshman Dance.

Saturday evening, after the jazz concert, the University's team will challenge the University of Maryland basketball team. All fraternities will hold open houses following the game to climax the week end's festivities. A house decorations contest is also being considered.

Dick Giesler and Miss Mignone are co-chairmen of the week end. The price of the Winter Weekend, including the costume ball and the jazz contest, will be $1.50 per person. Campus Combo holders will be admitted free.

President Confers Degree on Batlle

• THE HONORARY DEGREE of Doctor of Laws was conferred last Wednesday upon Luis Batlle Berres, President of Uruguay, during special convocation ceremonies in Lisner Auditorium.

The convocation opened with an academic procession led by University Marshal John F. Latimer. President Batlle was welcomed by Oswald S. Colclough, Dean of Faculties, and presented to University President Cloyd H. Marvin by Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, III, member of the Board of Trustees.

In conferring the degree, President Marvin cited President Batlle's attributes as a "... public servant gifted to establish the ideal as reality and make it an enlightening power in the lives of men; patron of education and culture," and "believer in Inter-American solidarity, not only for its significance to the new world, but as a basis of international cooperation and a way to world peace."

Although the deadline was extended for two months, these groups remained delinquent.

Probation is the first step in placing an organization on a non-recognition status, thus removing the privileges granted it by the University.

If a new application is not submitted, the organization will be dropped from the University catalogue. Those on probation include Alpha Epsilon Iota, Alpha Omega Alpha, Alpha Pi Epsilon, Canterbury Club, Chess Club, Gamma Eta Gamma, Kane-King Society, Nu Beta Epsilon and Nu Sigma Nu.

Also Order of the Coif, Psi Chi, Phi Delta Epsilon, Pi Gamma Mu, Pi Lambda Theta, Sigma Pi Sigma, Sigma Xi and Smith Reed, Russell Society.

In accepting the degree, President Batlle pointed out that the Uruguayan educational system, different from that of the United States, is government financed but autonomous and that students pass through the three levels of academic training cost-free. He also stressed that Uruguay has only one University compared with the many institutions in the United States.

He said that nations realize increasingly the importance of training youth not only as good technical workers but also as humanists who are able to hold "spiritual links with all the general problems of culture and of mankind."

Country's Greatness

President Batlle added that the greatness of a country is equal to the greatness of its sons. While university training is important, the intrinsic value of man determines the greatness of its peoples, not the power of a nation or its wealth. In closing, President Batlle presented Dr. Marvin with a complete set of documents about Jose Artigas, national hero of Uruguay.

After University Chaplain Joseph R. Sizoo pronounced the Benediction, Dr. Marvin and President Batlle led the recessional procession.

Singers Fly North For Holiday Tour

• THE UNIVERSITY'S MUCH traveled troupe, the Traveling Troubadours, will take off again on a holiday tour of the bases of the Northeast Air Command Friday, December 16, from Bolling Air Force Base.

It will be the eleventh overseas trip for the troupe since the first one in the Spring of 1950. (The log shows 97,549 flying miles, 516 hrs. and 56 min. flying time, 236 shows, 153 days on tour.)

The Troubadours, 17 girls and 14 men accompanied by their director, Dr. Robert H. Harmon, and accompanist, Mrs. Harmon, will present a variety show with dance specialty numbers, will sing the Messiah Chorus on Christmas Eve in Thule and will perform at chapel services.

Itinerary

The itinerary is expected to include: Prince Edward's Isle; Pepperel, St. John's, New Foundland; BW-1, Narasarrauk, Greenland; BW-8, Sondrestrom, Greenland; Thule; Frobisher Bay and Goose Bay, Labrador; and Harmon AFB, Newfoundland. It will be the fifth trip to the Northeast Air Command and the fourth Christmas trip to Thule. The troupe includes girls' and men's choruses, two quartets, a mixed group and large ensemble, and the dancing duo of Milica Hasalova and Tom Pence. Soprano soloist will be Mary Manougian.

Troubadours going on the trip are Ruth Berryman, Donald de F. Boyer, Sally Davis, Eugene Day, Bill Dotson, William J. Driscoll, Jonia Emory, Harry H. Gleeson, Angela Gnotta, Virginia Graf, Milica Hasalova, Carole Hesse, Paul Hull and Lee Jameson.

Other Travellers

Packed Lisner Hears Messiah on Monday

• LISNER WAS PACKED last night as students, faculty and the Washington public flocked to hear the sixth annual presentation of the Christmas portions of Handel's "Messiah."

The auditorium was filled as over 200 voices from the University Glee Club, the Air Force Singing Sergeants, the Eldbrook Methodist choir of Chevy Chase, Md., and the Bradbury Heights First Methodist Choir joined the Air Force Symphony Orchestra to bring this evening of song.

This is traditionally a presentation attended by almost as many outsiders as students. People gathered early in order to get seats and latecomers from classes that ended at 9 p.m. stood in the entry ways. Sorority and Fraternity members came at 8:15 p.m. to hold blocks of seats for their brothers and sisters in early meetings.

Air Force Capt. Robert L. Landers, director of the Singing Sergeants, led the combined chorus and orchestra.

Soloists were Master Sergeant Ivan Genuchi, tenor; Staff Sergeant Howard Huff, bass; Marion Whitcomb, soprano, and Linda Weisbrod, contralto. Miss Whitcomb is a soloist at the Eldbrook Methodist Church, Miss Weisman was Miss Washington of 1954 and Sergeants Genuchi and Huff are members of the Singing Sergeants.

The Messiah Chorus held practices each Tuesday and Thursday night for about a month running to prepare for the big night. Dr. Robert H. Harmon, associate University physician and director of the Glee Club, led the practices.

PIDE Elects Officers, Plans More Activity

• PI DELTA EPSILON, the national journalism honorary fraternity, held its initiation banquet on December 3.

Guest speaker was Dr. Eldbridge Colby, executive officer of the journalism department of the University. His talk dealt with the promotion of a more active program by the journalism

9,000 Study In Far Lands

• OVER 9,000 American students studied abroad last year, according to a survey issued by the Institute of International Education.

European colleges and universities enrolled over half of these students while Mexico, Canada, Italy and the United Kingdom each reported over 1,000 U. S. students.

The Philippines and Japan led the census in the Far East, and Israel and Lebanon were highest in the Near East. Eighty-five per cent of the U. S. students in South America were enrolled in Peru, Africa, Oceania, Australia and New Zealand reported smaller groups of Americans.

Six major fields of study were popular with the students abroad. Liberal arts students were concentrated in the United Kingdom and Canada, medical students in Switzerland and theological students in Italy. The social sciences were centered in Mexico and creative art in Germany, while Canada led in enrollment in natural and physical sciences.

The survey was conducted through a questionnaire sent to 1,000 institutions of higher learning in 74 countries.

fraternity. Following Dr. Colby's address, the election of officers was held. Edward Jaffee was elected president; Ernest Auerbach, vice president; Ray Sullivan, secretary, and Jerry Reinsdorf, treasurer.

Mr. Jaffee announced the future plans of the fraternity to the members and guests. Mr. Jaffee stated that the theme of the fraternity's program for 1955-56 was "increased activity." Plans include sponsorship of the Journalism Forum and exhibits at the coming Career Conference.

Mr. Jaffee explained that Mr. Sullivan will write to members of the alumni requesting copies of the publications for which the alumni work. Pi Delta Epsilon will also invite alumni of the group to speak on the transition of undergraduate students interested in journalism to professional journalists.

The present policy of explaining at meetings the methods, problem, and financial dealings of the HATCHET, the Cherry Tree and other University publications is to be continued.

Contest Gives $350 Prize

• THE ALEXANDER Wilbourn Weddell prize contest will award $350 for the best essay on some phase of the promotion of world peace.

The contest is open to all students registered for a degree in the University.

Essays entered should contain at least 3,000 words and must be accompanied by a bibliography of the source material. Entries should be submitted to Professor J. O. Murdock, chairman of the awards committee, at the office of the Law School in Stowton Hall. The deadline date in April will be announced later in the HATCHET.

Any specific topic dealing with any political, legal, economic, historical or philosophical phase of orderly community adjustment will be acceptable. Members of the award committee, Professors J. O. Murdock, William C. Davis and Robert H. Moore, may be consulted for additional suggestions.

Medical Honorary Selects Members

• ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA, honorary medical society, elected nine new medical students to its ranks December 7.

Elected are Oscar Dodek, Jr., Victor Schoken, Roger Shannon, Herbert Kotz, J. Daniel Wilkes, Roger Kahlbach, Nelson T. Debevoise and Reginald McManus.

Formal initiation as well as a banquet will take place in the spring when additional members are elected. Honorary members are Dr. Leland M. Parr of the Department of Biology and Dr. Joseph H. Roe of the Department of Biochemistry.

Current officers are M. Don George, president; David Snyder, vice-president; Maurice Covish, secretary, and Lawrence Zaroff, treasurer.

The Faculty adviser is Dr. Calvin T. Klopp of the Department of Surgery.

High Schools Hold Meeting

• THE ANNUAL University High School Discussion Conference was held Tuesday, December 7, in Lister Auditorium, under the direction of Professor Edwin L. Stevens of the Speech Department.

Students from all area high schools were invited to participate. Following registration, Oswald S. Colclough, dean of faculties, delivered an address of welcome to the students.

The conference topic, "How Has the 'Spirit of Geneva' Affected the Outlook for World Peace?" was discussed by a panel of speakers moderated by Professor Stevens. Mrs. Howard K. Hyde, League of Women Voters; Dr. Francis B. Stevens, director of the Office of Eastern European Affairs, Department of State, and Howard R. Ludden, professor of political science at the University, each examined the topic. A question and answer session followed the panel discussion.

Following lunch, the delegates elected conference officers. The delegates then broke up into groups to discuss the conference topic. University students who served as panel leaders were Anne Levin, Carol Picton, Beverly Borden, Paul Monroe, Ernie Shifflett, Ann Williams, Virginia Warren, Gene Lambert, Ruth Horenstein, Sara Jane Miller and Herb Wolf. A tea was held for the delegates and their faculty advisers in the Dimock Reception Room at 3:15 p.m. followed by a parliamentary session at 4 p.m.

Committee Advises Organized Dramatics

• THE UNIVERSITY Committee on Drama, composed of faculty and students, supervises and advises organized drama at the University with the aid of the Managing Director of Dramatic Activities.

The Drama Committee was created to act as a board of directors when drama was reorganized last year and in this capacity forms the nucleus for organized campus dramatics.

Acting in an advisory capacity the committee reviews plays for production during the year. Possible plays are selected by the Managing Director of Dramatic Activities Ed Ferero and his assistant Verlyn Brown. They are submitted to each member of the board who write their opinions of them.

In addition each member of the committee is responsible for one of the many phases of the finished production such as programs, costumes, lighting and makeup. Members see that the work is done and ready in time for opening night.

Although the committee works chiefly with organized University Dramatics, a representative from the Dance Production Group is included in its membership.

Members are appointed by University President Cloyd H. Marvin from Student Council nominations. The Student Council makes its nominations from recommendations made by Mr. Ferero.

The committee consists of five faculty members, Miss Virginia Kirkbride, director of women's activities; Dr. Don C. Faith; director of men's activities and five students.

Heading the committee is Dr. Fred S. Tupper, professor of English. Other faculty members are: L. Poe Leggett, Depew professor of speech; Donald C. Kline, professor of art; Miss Elizabeth Burtner, director of dance production groups and Dr. Charles William Cole, professor of American literature.

Student members are Jerry Osbourne, Bernie Passeltiner, Beverly Borden, Judy Morse and Mary Lou Bishop. R.A.H.

Party Honors All Smarties Thursday

• MORTAR BOARD'S annual Smarty Party for junior and senior women with a quality point index of 3.0 or above will be given Thursday from 4 to 6 in Woodhull House.

The party will be a gala celebration, a highlight of the yuletide season. Santa Claus will be there in the person of Dr. Fred S. Tupper, the smiling English professor.

Mrs. Eva Johnson, psychology professor, is making a surprise Christmas table centerpiece. Candy canes and sandwiches will be the food to go along with the wassail, which Professor Willner of the sociology department is making.

Players Give Fall's Show

• AN AUDIENCE of approximately 600 attended the opening night performance of the two night run of "The Curious Savage" at Lisner Auditorium last Friday.

The play was produced by Edward Ferero and Verlyn Brown. Orville French directed the production.

John Patrick's three act comedy starred a cast of lively performers. The lead role of Mrs. Ethel Savage was played by Kay Burn. Other performers included Ilma Alexy, Robert Bloch, Loydell Present at the Friday night performance were 119 high school students who came as guests of the University. They received tickets from the Division of Development.

Professor Donald C. Kline designed the play set. The technical director was Al Justice; stage manager, Harry Maxwell; and lighting, Leo Gallenstein.

P. E. Teacher Speaks At WAA Fall Dinner

• "INTERNATIONAL SPORT is a powerful force for the binding together of peoples . . . and friendship among nations is the rock on which world peace, if there is to be world peace, must be built," said Miss Anne Delano in addressing the Fall Sports Award Buffet Supper Thursday night in Lisner Lounge.

Miss Delano is a member of the physical education department at Smith College and captain of the American hockey and lacrosse teams touring to England, Scotland, Wales and Holland.

The dinner, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association and the department of physical education for women, honored fall sports award winners.

AF Cadets Fly To Wright Patterson

• A GROUP OF twenty cadets flew by C-47 to Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio, last Friday and returned the same evening.

In flight, the cadets were given opportunity to handle the plane's controls, and flight crew members were open to the cadets' questions and observations.

Under the supervision of Lieutenant Henthorne, the cadets were taken on a tour of the research buildings and museums connected with the research and development center. The cadets were shown methods and devices involved in research and development and were conducted to the museum where cut-away sections of jet aircraft were on exhibit, including the B-52, the F-102 and the Russian MIG-15.

The trip is part of the University's AFROTC program which introduces cadets to the basic functions, principles and objectives of the Air Force.

Holiday Cheer

• CHANUKAH LIGHTS are already burning, and friends to each other with gifts are turning. Santas are blossoming over the town, though they lack the effect of that cold lovely down. Called snow by some (but they're folks without cheer), cause to others it means that Christmas is here. In downtown department stores lights are lit, and patrons vainly avoid getting hit. By others who come at this season so gay, to buy gifts for their friends at home and away. The tranquil and festive, the gay and the bold, meet and don't clash in the happy fold. That we gather into this happy season, when we laugh and we sing and we shout without reason. Even the campus is gay to behold, with parties and dances and trees lit in the cold. And the spirit of God or understanding makes us all more humane, not quite as demanding. For, since about a week, at least, when profs and coeds enjoyed a small feast. In Strong Hall, that home of fine young women, the school's been full of fun and vim 'n. Lots of cheer and good times, too, like the International Party that lots went to, And the Christmas Tree lighting we just have had, because of things learned in the "engine" lab, And the lovely strains of the Messiah last night, when the mood and the music and the spirit were right. Only a few shed a pall of gloom, and they're the kids with exams so soon, Who have to study or flunk before vacation, and can't enjoy parties, just themes or equations. But even they should really be grateful, for profs who give tests now aren't so hateful. As those who wait till January 3, to give those exams to thee and me. The HATCHET is gay this week of fun, and we want to give cheer to all and one, So have a gay Merry Christmas, and a mad Happy New Year, and when we come back, run, guys, 'cause it's leap year. But a moment in a serious vein, Let us all remember the Man Who came (A couple of thousand years it's been) With a message of hope and good will to men. This aim let's revitalize all through the year And make our lives fuller of real Christmas cheer.

Cool Rule

Christmastime Arrives With Santa, Dwarfs

• IT'S CHRISTMAS time.

Downtown streets are gaily decorated with holiday streamers and the Seven Dwarfs and other fairy tale folk are perched on little swings all along downtown G Street. Department store windows are full of Santa's workshops and the side of Hecht's department store looks like one huge Christmas tree lit up in the night time. All around the holiday crowds are pushing and rushing, their noise punctuated by the Salvation Army's bells. Little kids are eagerly awaiting their turn to see Santa Claus and all sorts of food collections for needy families are under way, with recordings of the holiday carols sounding loudly in the streets.

There's a lot of hustle and bustle connected with the holiday season. In the post offices, nice old ladies, polite and gentle, through the rest of the year, are now pushing ahead of each other in the long lines before the "parcel post and stamps" windows. Department stores have become over-crowded places where, in the dash to buy Yuletide presents, society seems to have reverted to a survival of the fittest proposition. The shop lifting squad has been set at one hundred and fifty men, the largest in the city's history.

So go downtown. Enjoy the pretty windows. Catch the holiday enthusiasm. Buy your presents for Aunt Suzy and Uncle John, but don't push your way through the crowds or bump the old lady next to you. Remember—it's Christmas time.

Cast Brings Whimsy By Characterizations

by Ross Wiener

• AFTER A SLOW start, the University Players rollicked through the second act, and hit a high note of pathos in the final act of their production of "The Curious Savage."

John Patrick's comedy depicts life at the Cloister, a home for the mentally disturbed, and concentrates on Mrs. Savage, who thwarts her three fortune-hunting step-children in order to spend a $10,000,000 inheritance through a "happiness fund," enabling others to pursue their hidden ambitions. The movement of the plot carries out a theme which seems to point out that the insane are not to blame, and that some of the supposedly sane could perhaps benefit from being institutionalized.

The plot's whimsy demands characterization of the highest order to arouse proper audience sympathy. Kay Burn, as Mrs. Savage, played the role with the necessary fancy which made her a delightful character to encounter as she brought warmth, understanding and impish naughtiness to the goings on at the Cloisters. Loydell Jones, as Fairy Mae, gave the acting performance of the evening. Her interpretation of the homely girl who longed for beauty, excitement and love was just right.

Other praise-worthy performances were also given. Bev Borden, if given more opportunity, could

• "WANTED: 1956 STUDENT Handbook Editor and one Student Enrollment Committee Co-chairman. Must be dependable, reliable and industrious."

The Student Council has announced that it is now accepting petitions for these two positions. Students possessing the above-stated qualifications and desiring one of the positions should get their petitions in before Friday, January 13, the deadline set at last week's Student Council meeting.

The meeting started off with a lively discussion about this year's new method of selecting the Homecoming Queen. Several questions were raised concerning the article which appeared in last week's HATCHET on the subject. It was explained that the opinions expressed in the article were those of Tony Shupe, Student Council Advocate; the article itself was the report of an interview held with Mr. Shupe for the purpose of discovering his opinion of the election and any ideas or suggestions he might have for future years. As Advocate, Mr. Shupe conducts all school elections.

Miss Wiener Disagrees
A few Student Council members disagreed with Mr. Shupe's disapproval of this year's popular-vote method. Rosa Wiener, Columbian College Representative, said that, all things considered, she thinks this is "the best way" to choose a representative Homecoming Queen. She pointed out that there is bound to be "a certain amount of politicking" in any method of selection, even where judges do the choosing. Miss Wiener agreed that there were certain discrepancies present in this year's election, but expressed the belief that they would be smoothed over in future elections and that, if continued, this method would improve and be working well and effectively in just a few years.

"Beautiful In Theory"
Mr. Shupe, on the other hand, said he thought the larger, stronger organizations would get their candidates in every time. While it is a "beautiful thing in theory," easily have stolen the show by her portrayal of Mrs. Paddy, the woman who could only enumerate what she hated. Bob Bloch was perfectly cast as the frustrated violinist who had spent two years trying to invent "something that could be made for a dime, sold for a dollar, and would be habit forming." He was contrasted with Jeffrey, played by Bob Dolson, who had musical talent, but couldn't perform because of his fear of the world resulting from a guilt complex.

The characterization of Senator Titus Savage, the man who had been sent to Washington in order "to get him out of the state" was well-done by Bernie Passeltiner. Ann Williams, who is soon to join the touring company of "Damn Yankees," played her role of Miss Wilhemina, the nurse and also the wife of Jeffrey, with competence, understanding and polish.

Also in the cast were Ilma Alexy as Florence, Judy Morse as the shrewish Lily Belle, Jack Loadman and Conrad Tuohy.

Orville French was responsible for the direction of a production, which, after the slow pacing of the first act, and with the exception of a few minor bobbles, was polished and almost professional. The set, designed by Professor Donald C. Kline, was both artistic and functional, and was the additional highlight which made the evening at Lisner worthwhile and enjoyable.

Council Capers

he said, the popular election method of choosing the Homecoming Queen does not work out in actual practice.

Several other items of importance were also brought up at the meeting. It was announced that a committee has been formed for the purpose of looking into Campus Combo to find how the students and participating organizations feel about it. Rosa Wiener, chairman of the committee, is preparing a questionnaire and suggestions form which will be ready after the holidays. Assisting Miss Wiener are Norman Cohen, Student Council Vice-President, and Tony Shupe.

Spring Orientation

Plans for the spring semester's freshman orientation program, under the direction of Beverly Borden, director of freshman activities, are getting under way. Anyone with suggestions for the freshman orientation program is asked to contact Miss Borden, who may be reached at Strong Hall.

At long, long last it seems that the old, inactive organizations on campus are going to be discovered and officially done away with! Joe King, head of a committee in charge of compiling an accurate, up-to-the-minute list of active organizations and activities on campus, has found one or two organizations which have not been functioning for years.

Mr. King has also come across a new honorary medical fraternity, Alpha Omega Alpha, which is operating without a constitution. Before this society can be given official University recognition, it will have to compose a constitution and have it approved by the Student Council, a requirement for all new campus organizations. Kathy Denver, comptroller, and Joan Duke, activities chairman, are working with Mr. King on the committee.

The Student Council will hold its second annual Christmas party at 9:30 p.m. tomorrow night, immediately following its regular meeting. Refreshments for the party, which will be held in Strong Hall, are being donated by Miss Virginia Kirkbride, director of women's activities, and Dr. Don C. Faith, director of men's activities.

Rooster Crows Ages Harvard

• NORMAN, OKLA. — (ACP) — From the Oklahoma Daily's "Weekly Speaking" Column:

A farmer invited the pastor of his church to his home for Sunday dinner. The farmer's wife had fried two young chickens for the meal so she set them on the table and they all sat down to eat. Before the farmer and his wife had finished helping themselves to the vegetables on the table, the pastor had completely devoured both chickens. Just as the minister pushed his plate aside the rooster crowed loudly in the farmyard.

"That rooster sure sounds like he's proud of himself," observed the pastor.

"Well, he dern sure should be," quipped the farmer. "After all, he has two sons in the ministry!"

• GRAND FORKS, N. D. — (ACP) — What's it like at Harvard? The University of North Dakota's student newspaper printed this one to give you some idea:

Not long ago one of the older students at Harvard was complaining to a professor. "I've been asked everything from the age of my parents to my wife's family background. As a matter of fact, I was asked fewer personal questions and ran into less red tape when I applied for a job with the State Department in Washington." "That may be true," replied the professor softly, "but you must realize we're a much older organization."

Merry Christmas And Happy New Year

by Hester Heale

• NOT TO BE outdone by the editors, I hereby extend a MERRY CHRISTMAS! to you—us all.

The Sigs topped off a festive week end with the crowning of their new sweetheart, Sharlie West, DG, by president Chis McAvoy and last year's sweetheart, Bev Alexander. Friday night found the brothers at Mickey Croce's party, and a blast it was! A Sig alumni, Doug Butturff, had a cocktail party before the dance on Saturday night—and Donald Mills was the high light of this merry gathering, as he checked the calendar for the next party (?). Seen at the big dance were George Welsh (of Annapolis fame) with Kappa Jeannie Barnes, Bernie Kovach with Alice Jones, the Gasperi's, George Dancu with Connie McDavitt, Frank Kovac with Sweetheart Sharlie West, Gary Griffith with Anne Bageant, Mickey Croce with Kathy Blackburn, Wylie Barrow with Carol Wilson, Paul Welch with Phyllis Charnley, Chis McAvoy and Mary Ann McNeely.

The ADPI's pledge formal was held in the Cloud Room of the National Airport, with Professor Donald Kline presenting the pledges to the actives and alumna present. Among those dancing were Betty Barry with Jack Belland, Phi Sig; Judy Perkins with George Buckmaster, Acacia; Betty Carver with Charlie Bechtel, Phi Sig; Joyce Lukach with Harry Espey, KS; Pat Burke with Jim Gipple (naturally). The pre-dance party was given by Mel Martin, with the help of her date, Jim Newheller, Phi Sig.

Phi Sig Joe King, the School of Education's representative to the Student Council, and Joan Story, KD, are being married on Saturday. The Student Council is invited to the wedding and reception.

PIKA's "Comic Strip" party was a great success. Guests agreed that the last couple was Joe Hince and Judy Jeeves, PIPH, as Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner. The Pike-Kappa annual Punch Bowl Game was won by the Kappa's, 167-1½. Edna Runswick's punch made the day even joyous-er. The Pike's announce the planning of John Posta to Loydell Jones, KKG, who was serenaded by the brothers on the night following the planning.

ZTA's pledge formal featured parties both before and after the dance, at which the pledges were introduced by Joyce Winegard. Before the formal, Carmel and Lew Cassidy had a party at the SPE house, with the help of several SPE's, while the post-dance party took place at Dell "Nicola" Brown's house and included songs, buffet and punch. Betsy Day's attire was the hit of the evening...

On Sunday last, the Chi O-Kappa Sig exchange was a blast indeed. The brothers sang muchos Christmas carols, in preparation for their Christmas tree decoration party on next Friday night.

The AEPI pledges gave a party for the brothers on Saturday night after the play, at which a short skit was presented by the exuberant pledges. Present were Stretch Berger and Naomi Stein, Dave Gershberg and Bobbie Brisker, Charlie Levy and Doris Rosenberg, Jerry Reinsdorf, Herb Rapaport, all and sundry.

Strong Hall's lovelies were pleasantly surprised by a serenade from the SAE's on Sunday night. At the end of the concert, the brothers answered the requests for "Violets." And, incidentally, the SAE party on Saturday night was (See FOGGY, Page 9)

Phyllis Harte Serves Students By Writing

• THERE'S ONE GIRL here at the University who's more involved with students than just about anybody else. She doesn't teach them, she isn't one of them. But she follows them morning, noon and night. The reason why is very simple—she writes about them.

She's the one responsible for most of the news about student activities that appear in the downtown papers—all the pictures and interviews and extravaganzas on Homecoming, the Summer Carnival, the plays or the Christmas Tree-Lighting Ceremony.

She's the one who lies awake nights praying that the Who's Whoers and the Phi Betes will hand in the blanks she has sent them from the Public Relations Office so that she can get her stories out. She's the one who madly searches the school for "typical" freshmen or sophomores or student housewives with nine children so that the downtown papers can do special features.

This Is Phyllis Harte

In case you haven't realized yet who she is, the Miss who lives for (and by) the students is brown-eyed, auburn-haired Phyllis Harte, Public Relations staff writer.

Recently a student herself (she graduated from the University in June of 1954), Miss Harte has that special interest in the things that go on around this asphalt campus that makes for better and bigger news about us all over town. With a sincere interest in the activities of the students, Miss Harte is never too busy to discuss plans for the latest upcoming events with campus planners, and she can think up an angle for anything from the Mortarboard "Smarty Party" to the "Pumpkin Prom." Originally from Chicago, Illinois, Miss Harte transferred to the University in 1951 after two years at the University of Chicago.

Interest In Art

With an avid interest in art, she has, for years worked art and writing into a happy combination of avocation and vocation. An accomplished amateur artist, she likes most of all to do portrait work, though she has done some still life and landscape pieces. She attempts "a sort of supra realism, richer, gayer, more vivid than the object itself."

Along the writing line she has done free-lancing since before the war. Last year two of her features appeared in the "Star" pictorial section. The ironic thing is that Miss Harte never took a course in Public Relations, though she majored in journalism. She learned her public relations in "the empirical manner," after starting to work for Miss Margaret Davis.

Needs Students' Help

Very appreciative of the help the students have given her, she feels that there are a few things that could make her job easier. More people should realize that she is a liaison agent between the campus and the public and feel free to call on her for help when trying to publicize something. But when they do ask for help they should realize that she is sometimes "squarely in the middle, knowing the needs and conflicts of both sides"; for instance, when "the kids want to keep the Homecoming Queen a surprise and the papers want to get pictures taken early because the first editions hit the street at a certain time."

But despite her protestations of problems, Miss Harte never seems to let them stump her. Her "empirical" learning really fell on fertile soil.

Finding College Life Very Gay, IFC Prexy Wears French Beret

by Elva Schroebel

• NO, JACK CREHORE hasn't suddenly gone French on us. That beret he's wearing around campus, to the amusement of many, is for another reason.

When he's not wearing his beret, this busy senior has a job and a half as president of the Interfraternity Council, drawing up and trying to enforce rush rules, holding committee meetings and working on the Student Life Committee, a job that comes with presidency of I.F.C.

Certainly all this is a far cry from what he was expecting when, as a freshman, he entered Williams College in Massachusetts. However, math courses didn't agree with him and he decided to transfer, preferably to a school in Washington. Thus he came to be one of the many students who attend a few classes here at the University at night and remain relatively unknown in activities. "I didn't even go to the Union the first semester I was here," he says, "but I finally woke up to what the school had to offer, and as soon as I started getting into things, I learned what a really great school it is. The only people who are unhappy at G. W. are those who don't put anything into it."

A Theta Delta Chi active at Williams, he soon affiliated with the chapter here, eventually filling the positions of recording secretary, corresponding secretary and, finally, president. In this capacity he was sent last September to the national convention in Chicago, and is still talking dreamily of a martini glass one and a half feet high that he saw there.

When the rotation of I. F. C. presidency went to his fraternity, he was nominated and elected.

Besides being a member of the Canterbury Club since he came here, he is also active in the Society for the Advancement of Management and represents the Dance Production Groups on the Campus Combo Executive Committee. He takes great pride in having been the first to sign up for Old Men at the Activities Fair, but, he says ruefully, "they lost the original list and I had to sign up again."

All these activities have brought him recognition in Gate and Key and made him someone in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Jack doesn't have much time for Dance Production now, but it was one of the first things he took up here. However, he decided to quit once and went over to Building J to see Miss Burtner. She wasn't there, though, and he found himself talking to a "cute little blond with a long pony tail." He never did quit Dance Production and he and Lillemore Spitzer, the "cute little blond with the long pony tail," were married this October on the last day of fraternity rush, making his rush season doubly hectic.

A business major, with brown hair and smiling brown eyes, Jack expects to graduate in June and then go off to serve his hitch with Uncle Sam after which he hopes to get a Master's degree in psychology and go into personnel management.

HOW TO BE A BWOC

A few weeks ago in this space I passed on some hints to college men who wished to become BWOCs. I would be remiss not to do the same for college women who wish to become BWOCs.

The first and most basic step on the road to being a BWOC is to attract attention. Get yourself noticed. But be very, very careful not to do it the wrong way. I mean, any old girl is bound to be noticed if she goes around with a placard that says, "HEY! LOOKIT ME!" Don't you make such a horrid gaffe. On your placard put: "ZUT! REGARDEZ-MOI!" This, as you can see, lends a whole new dimension of tone and dignity.

Once you have been noticed, it is no longer necessary to carry the placard. It will suffice if, from time to time, you make distinctive noises. If, for instance, every three or four minutes you cry, "Whip-poor-will!" you cannot but stay fresh in the minds of onlookers.

We come now to clothes, a vital accessory to the BWOC—indeed, to any girl who wishes to remain out of jail. But to the BWOC clothes are more than just a decent cover; they are, it is not too much to say, a way of life.

This year the "little boy look" is all the rage on campus. Every coed, in a mad effort to look like a little boy, is wearing short pants, knee socks, and boy-shirts. But the BWOC is doing more. She has gone the whole hog in achieving little boyhood. She has frogs in her pockets, scabs on her knees, down on her upper lip, and is followed everywhere by a dog named Spot.

All this, of course, is only by day. When evening falls and her date comes calling, the BWOC is the very picture of chic femininity. She dresses in severe, simple basic black, relieved only by a fourteen pound charm bracelet. Her hair is exquisitely coiffed, with a fresh rubber band around the pony tail. Her daytime scuffs have been replaced by fashionable high heeled pumps, and she does not remove them until she gets to the movies.

After the movies at the campus cafe, the BWOC undergoes her severest test. The true BWOC will never, never, never, order the entire menu. This is gluttony and can only cause one's date to blench. The true BWOC will pick six or seven good entrées and then have nothing more till dessert. This is class and is the hallmark of the true BWOC.

Finally, the BWOC, upon being asked by the cigarette vendor which is the brand of her choice, will always reply, "Philip Morris, of course!" For any girl knows that a Philip Morris in one's hand stamps one instantly as a person of taste and discernment, as the possessor of an educated palate, as a connoisseur of the finer, gentler, higher pleasures. This Philip Morris, this badge of savoir faire, now comes to you in a smart new pack of red, white and gold, in king-size or regular, at popular prices, wherever cigarettes are sold.

To all on campus, big or small, men or women, the makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column, extend a cordial invitation to try today's gentle Philip Morris, made gentle to smoke gentle.

Dean Speaks On Literature In Life

● DR. CALVIN D. Linton, assistant dean of the Colombian College, delivered the second "Last Lecture," Tuesday.

Speaking on "Literature in Life," Dean Linton said there are two ways of retaining knowledge: the mechanical method of filing knowledge and the method of absorbing material presented in a way that makes it live. Literature, said Dr. Linton, is the way that brings the quality of life to a subject.

A broader view of life's fulfillment, the balance of the capacity to achieve and the desire to do so, is given us by literature, continued Dr. Linton.

Dr. Linton cited several factors which combine to make up this basic fulfillment, such as love, worship, moral grandeur, and he read excerpts from the works of famous authors as examples.

blood, feature editor of the magazine, dealt with the problems of bathtub baritones in obtaining good tonal quality.

The Mecheleciv editor is Michael Brady and the associate editor is Ray Sullivan. All higher positions on the magazine can only be held by engineering students but any student may write for it if he desires.

Faculty adviser for the magazine is Norman B. Ames, Professor of Electrical Engineering.

The magazine is financed by the Engineering Council and the alumni contributions.

The plaque was received at the ECMA convention in Nebraska.

Forty Paintings In Lisner Art Exhibit

● AN EXHIBIT OF forty paintings by Walter Bachrach is being presented as the December art show at Lisner Library.

Mr. Bachrach's work consists of winter, summer and fall scenes, and a few indoor still-lives. "Adirondack Village" has descriptive distances in blue-violets. Another, painted in the full color of summer, "Low Tide," effectively uses sunlight on sand, and boats add sharp contrasts of shadow. From the sea to the rainy city pavements of "Georgetown" the artist portrays an acceptable change of pace.

Party Honors Internationals Of University

● THE ANNUAL CHRISTMAS party honoring foreign students was held last Friday in Lisner Lounge.

It was sponsored by the Women's Faculty Club with the help of Professor Alan T. Deibert, adviser to foreign students.

The highlight of the program was the appearance of the Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Faye Finley Shaw. Christmas carols were sung with the audience joining in the last number presented, "Silent Night."

Refreshments

Refreshments were served to the 200 guests in the Dimmock Room around a Christmas tree decorated with flags and Christmas greetings from many of the sixty-seven nations represented at the party. Hostesses were Mrs. Elmer Kayser and Mrs. John T. Fey.

All foreign students attending the University as well as American members of the International Students Society were invited.

Receiving Line

Heading the receiving line were: Professor Deibert; Mrs. Mildred Shott, president of the Women's Faculty Club; Mrs. John T. Fey, wife of the Dean of Law School; Mrs. Roderick Davison, wife of Dr. P. H. Davison, professor of History, and Miss Frances Kirkpatrick, professor of home economics.

Ogden Discusses Korah; Sager Talks to Chemists

● SIGMA PHI EPSILON announces the appointment of Jim Shieler as House Manager and Gino Slatich, assistant Social Chairman.

● THE LESTER F. Ward Sociological Society will hold its Christmas spaghetti party Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at 2112 F Street. Call RE. 7-8909 for reservations.

● THE CHEMISTRY CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday. Dr. Sager will speak on his trip to England.

● THE FACULTY WOMEN'S Special Interest Group will present the next of its religious discussions on January 5 in Woodhull House. Florence Suzuki, second secretary of the Japanese embassy, will lecture on Shintoism and Japanese Buddhism. The public is invited.

● THE WESTMINSTER FOUNDATION will meet Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in Building "O." The Christmas program of devotions and singing will be followed by refreshments.

● THE INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB will meet tonight at 8:45 p.m. in Woodhull House. Mr. Chalmers Roberts of the Washington Post will speak on "Nuclear Energy in Europe."

● ALL STUDENTS are invited to the Student Christian Fellowship Christmas meeting, Friday, December 16, at 1 p.m. in Building "O."

● HILLEL FOUNDATION announces that Robert Ogden, Chief of the Near East Division of the Library of Congress, will speak on "The Koran," December 15 at 8:15 p.m. at the Foundation, 2129 H Street.

Mayo Joins Staff Of FCC To Study

● PROFESSOR LOUIS H. Mayo, Assistant Dean of the Law School, has been granted leave of absence to accept a position as Executive Secretary of a special staff of the Federal Communications Commission which will undertake a study of radio and television networks.

Professor Mayo was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1940 and served as an officer in the Navy until 1947. He was assistant professor of Naval Science at the University of Virginia in 1946 and 1947, and was awarded the L.L.B. degree there in 1949.

He joined the University staff in 1950 as assistant professor of Law and secretary of the Law School, and became associate professor and assistant dean in 1953. He received his J.S.D. degree in 1953 from Yale University.

While on leave, Professor Mayo will continue to teach two courses at the University, including "Control and Use of Atomic Energy," which was taught by him for the first time here last year.

Dance Offers Trial Session

● AN EXPERIMENTAL Studio Session, sponsored by the Dance Production Group, will be held in Lisner Auditorium, Thursday, December 15, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Demonstrations will be given in staging, lighting and makeup. Al Justice, stage manager for the Dance Production Groups, will conduct a tour backstage, explaining how apparatus is used.

Each of the Dance Production Groups will present a demonstration using various staging effects for dance.

The experimental session is being offered with an eye on the Spring Dance Concert. "Suggestions and criticisms of students attending the session will be greatly appreciated," said Hetty Mitchell, manager of the Dance Production Groups.

Navy Chooses Men For Graduate Course

• THE NAVY GRADUATE Comptrollership Program at the University, the first of its type in the country, is now in its fifth year with an enrollment of twenty-eight Naval officers.

This program was developed in an effort to implement Public Law 416 of Congress in 1949 which created an Office of Comptroller in the Department of Defense and in each branch of the armed forces.

The Navy first evidenced the need for graduate training for potential comptrollers, and in 1951 the University was requested to develop a specialized graduate training program.

Dr. A. Fox Johnson, director of the Comptrollership program, stated that out of the 150 to 175 officers who apply yearly to the Bureau of Personnel of the Naval Department only 20 to 30 are chosen for enrollment. The program offers such business administration courses as federal budget, advanced accounting, management engineering and seminars in comptrollership in which "comptrollers to America's biggest businesses participate," according to Dr. Johnson.

Qualifications for enrollment, said Dr. Johnson, are set up by the Navy Department. The University requirements are daily class attendance and a satisfactory completion of comprehensive exams and two master theses or term reports. Classes are held in Government 200, and a special library has been set up for the students' benefit.

Professors conducting the courses are Dr. Ralph D. Kennedy, Dr. Augustus C. Johnson, Professor Walter D. Fackler, Dr. Richard N. Owens, Mr. Chester H. McCall, Mr. Wilbur E. Benson, Professor Kurtz and Professor Carl W. Clewlow.

Dr. Johnson said the Comptrollership Program is "reputed to be the most sought-after graduate course conducted in civilian universities for the Department of the Navy." Former graduates of the course now maintain positions in each of the 13 U. S. Naval districts, and in Bureaus of the Navy throughout the world.

sparked by a Revival Meeting, led by Bob McCandless (champion hog-caller of the state of Oklahoma). But Sunday afternoon found the house nicely decorated with greenery for the SAE-Kappa exchange, to the delight of the ladies. Now, tell me true, Ken Bailey (Delt) is it really cold in Delaware?

Jerry Reinsdorf and "Poops" Cohen, the new officers of the Alpha Chapter of the FEP Club, wish to announce the initiation of "Moose" Landau and "Stut" Gertler, and the pledging of Stretch Berger, Saul Liebowitz and Jesse Rubin. (Good grief, what next?)

The SK pledge formal was held on Saturday night, with many guests alternating between the formal and the Sig Sweetheart dance. Plum Synon and Bobby Sutton charmed all guests with their dancing, and the evening was enjoyed by all SK actives and pledges.

This is it until next January, kiddies. Have a nice vacation.

IFC Announces New Spring Rush Program

• A ONE WEEK spring rush schedule starting February 6, 1956, has been announced by the Interfraternity Council.

Formal rush rules will go into effect beginning January 31 and the first rotation party will be held February 6. Balloting will take place February 13. The primary objective of the shorter rush period is to eliminate the confusion caused by the coincidence of rushing with registration, orientation and beginning classes, according to the IFC officials.

For the rotation parties the fraternities will be divided into four groups. Rushes will be required to obtain only four signatures instead of the previous ten, due to the shorter rush period.

Rides may be provided for rushees to and from both the Open House on February 12 and Winter Weekend activities. On Friday and Saturday, February 10 and 11, rushing will be permitted only at Winter Weekend activities.

Chapel

• DR. JOSEPH R. SIZOO announces that the Chapel Service Wednesday, 12:10, at 1910 "H" Street, N.W., will honor all fraternities. Roy Barnard, Student Council president, will participate in this last University Chapel Service before Christmas.

No women will be permitted in the fraternity houses during the rotational parties. Violations of any rushing rules are subject to penalties and fines by IFC.

What's doing at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Domestic Travel in the Age of Jet Transports

Starting in 1959, United Air Lines' flight time between Los Angeles and New York will be 4½ hours — between Chicago and New York, only 90 minutes. By placing the first contract order for jet transports to be used in domestic operations, United Air Lines has upheld its reputation as a pioneer in American air travel. Its new fleet of 30 Douglas DC-8 Clippers will be powered by the most powerful production aircraft engines in the world, J-57 turbojets, designed and developed by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft.

It is only a matter of time until jet transports are standard equipment along the air lanes of the world. The large majority of them will be powered by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft jet engines — an achievement of great significance.

A jet-turbine powerplant that develops 10,000 pounds of thrust — or more — involved some of the most complex problems of present-day engineering. A glance at the roster of today's J-57-powered military aircraft* is proud testimony to the success with which those problems were resolved by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft engineers.

Nowhere else can engineering graduates utilize their training more fully than in the rapidly evolving field of aircraft propulsion. Work is well under way on the development of even more advanced powerplants — jet, turboprop, nuclear.

Sponsors Fete Senior ROTC

• FLYING SPONSORS will hold a Christmas party for senior ROTC members in Chapin Hall Cadet lounge at 12:30 p.m. today.

The eighteen active members of the group serve as official hostesses at all ROTC social functions. They are a type of "ladies auxiliary" to the ROTC, assisting in activities such as the "Colonial Cadet," the official publication.

Flying Sponsors president, or commanding officer, is Bobbie Ruth Moore. Other officers are: vice president, Kyra Mosel; adjutant, Barbara Johnson, and comptroller, Betty Cubberly. Ruth Berryman is operations officer, and Joan Duke is public information officer.

All girls in the group hold honorary commissions in the ROTC. Members begin as second lieutenants and, after a period of time, become first lieutenants. Officers' ranks move up the military scale to that of lieutenant colonel, held by commanding officer, Bobbie Ruth Moore.

Flying Sponsors are selected on the basis of personality, character and activities. They must have a 2.4 quality point index.

Petitions for membership must be signed by 10 ROTC cadets. Active members vote to accept the petition. On acceptance, prospective members pass a six-month pledge period before initiation.

Debate Team Places Third in Tournament

• THE ENSONIAN Debate Society tied for third place in the New York Hall of Fame Tournament held in New York City last week end.

The tournament sponsored by New York University was attended by 42 colleges and universities.

Suzanne Bregman and Anina Levin arguing the affirmative side of the year's topic, Resolved: Non-Agricultural Industries of the United States Should Guarantee an Annual Wage to Employees, won three and lost one. The team

Vic Jackson and Jerry Lafitte. They met the University of Pittsburgh, Ferdornia State College, Marietta College, Ohio Wesleyan and McGill of Canada.

On the negative side were Frank Gregory and Eugene Lambert who met Dickinson, Case, Wooster, North Carolina and St. Vincent.

Temple Novice

Debaters also attended the Temple Novice Debate Tournament at Temple University in Philadelphia recently.

The affirmative team of Stuart Riggsby and Bill Raup was undefeated, finishing with a score of 4-0. On the negative side, Harold Horan and Roy Carver won two and lost two.

Next week end the Debate society will participate in the Maryland Law School Tournament at the Maryland Law School in Baltimore. Last year the team which entered the debate won.

The tournament, attended by 69 schools, is for those who have never debated in tournaments before.

Career Conference

• THE CAREER Conference Committee will meet with the student chairmen of the Career Conference forums in the Conference Room of the Student Union Annex at 7:30 tonight. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss speakers for the individual forums.

The negative side of the question was taken by Paul Fanning and Dick Jamborsky, who also won three and lost one. They met St. John's University, Hofstra, University of Scranton and C.C.-N.Y.

The tournament was won by Fordham University.

The society also participated in the Eighth Annual Cross-Examination Debate Tournament in Pittsburgh last week end.

Faculty Tea Honors Prexy

• PRESIDENT CLOYD H. Marvin was guest of honor at the third annual Strong Hall Faculty Tea held last Wednesday.

Pouring the traditional hot was-sail were: Miss Jean Buckley, assistant to the director of women's activities; Dr. Gloria Godbey, associate University physician; Miss Elizabeth Burtner, associate professor of physical education for women; Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr, member of the University Board of Trustees; Mrs. Oswald S. Clough, wife of the Dean of Faculties and Miss Frances Kirkpatrick, professor of home economics. Wassail is hot punch made of cider, lemon juice and spices.

The tea was sponsored by the Strong Hall Council, which is in charge of the dormitory's social activities and is the governing body of the dorm. Officers of the Council are Sandy Myers, president; Roma Knee, secretary; Joan Elso, treasurer, and Nancy Wilson, social chairman.

Noted Lecturer Gives 'Poet's Theatre' Here

• VINCENT GODFREY BURNS, widely known for his Poet's Theatre, will be presented on Friday at 8 p.m. in Lisner Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Parker School of Personality.

The program will include an address of welcome by Agnes McCall Parker, spirituals by high school choirs and the one-man theatre magic in costume and poetry.

In the last fifteen years Vincent Burns has appeared in his Poet's Theatre to more than two and a half million people throughout the United States.

On February 22, 1955, at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, the Freedoms Foundation awarded Burns top honors for public speaking for his speech, "The Four Fundamentals of American Idealism." He received $1,000, the George Washington Gold Medal and a replica of the watch George Washington used at Valley Forge.

Special low prices on tickets for Poet's Theatre are now available at the bookstore.

In introducing Vincent Burns to a nationwide radio audience Dr. Kenneth Wells, president of Free-

Joe has had a terrific shooting field goal percentage. He was No. 1 in the country two years ago and No. 2 this past year, dropping in nearly three out of every five attempts. In his first two games this year, Joe fired twenty out of twenty-eight tries through the rim.

Intramural Basketball Commences
With 34 Teams in Five Leagues

by Chis McAvoy

• THE INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL season opened last week end with thirty-four teams in five leagues breaking from the starting gate in quest of league championships, which will be decided in mid-March. Two Saturday leagues accommodate twelve teams with games starting at 1 p.m., and ending at 7 p.m. The Sunday schedule is composed of three leagues encompassing twenty-two teams with games starting at 10 a.m. and running on until 9 p.m.

Newcomers to basketball participation this year include the Pharmers, an enzymatic crew from the Pharmacy School; Jersey Cats and Kappa Alpha, who were intramurally baptized during the tough football season; the Yankees and Rejects, who have been amalgamated from talent carefully screened in the Physical Education classes; and Theta Tau, a team composed of members from the Engineering fraternity. The Medical School has three teams entered this year, and many of the fraternities have entered "B" teams.

Heavy Schedule

The facilities of the gymnasium are heavily taxed by the heavy schedule of games. If the leagues are to run smoothly, each team must be responsible for showing up ON TIME. If you are there on time the games will be over within the hour, BUT if you are late the entire league schedule is upset.

SCORES FOR DECEMBER 10 AND 11. FOLLOWING THE SCORE IS THE NAME OF THE HIGH SCORER FOR THE WINNING TEAM.

LEAGUE A: Pirates (EN) 27-SPE 25 (Jackson, 12); Medical School Juniors 54-Acacia 9 (Zou-ras, 21); ROTC 33-Newman Club 18 (Zalewski, 13).

LEAGUE B: Welling Hall 55-

Kappa Sig 18 (Daniel, 15); Medical School Sophs 47-PIKA "B" 16 (Ratzer, 15); Medical School Frosh 25-Pharmers 23 (Killen, 22).

LEAGUE C: Law School forfeited to the Jersey Cats; Phi Alpha 58-Sigma Chi "B" 16 (Mason, 15); PIKA had a bye due to the demise of the Rejects who have joined forces with the Yankees; TKE 56-Theta Tau 15 (Maraney, 16).

LEAGUE D: Phi Sig 29-Alphas 19 (King, 14); Sigma Nu 40-AEPI 28 (Smart and Green, 15); Delta Theta Phi 44-DTD 22 (Thompson, 18); Jersians 54-TEP 26 (Rosania, 20).

LEAGUE E: Sigma Chi 45-SAE 27 (Looney, 15); Kappa Alpha 34-Theta Delt 12 (Martin, 10); Colonials 62-Yankees 31 (Cilento, 14).

Med Strong

In League A the Med School Juniors appear strong enough to take the marbles with ROTC a close contender. League B finds another Med School team, the Sophomores, ably sparked by John Ratzer, as the chief threat for the title with Welling Hall as an outside possibility.

PIKA and Phi Alpha should wage a bitter fight for the League C laurels, with PIKA as my choice for the playoffs. The Pikes showed good backboard strength last year and should get a boost offensively with the return of Bob McLindon, former Western High School star. Phi Alpha has a smooth working team, but has lost the nucleus of last year's championship squad.

League D finds the Jersians, with native sons Joe Rosania and Joe Boland leading the way, as the power of the league. They are ably assisted by Tennessean Bo Austin, and Pennsylvanian Jack Henzes. Delta Theta Phi won impressively from the Deltas and could cause the Jersians some anxious moments.

The ravages of Sweetheart Dance week end were evident in the first title of the season with SAE, but the Sigma Chi's veteran squad, known in mural circles as the Beef Trust, have the experience necessary to take the crown in League E. Dancu, Donofrio and Gaspari are in their third season of intramural competition, and with high scoring Ray Looney and Dick Claypool rounding out the starting five, the Sigs are looking forward to the playoffs.

PARTING SHOTS—THE NEXT GAMES OF THE BASKETBALL SEASON WILL BE PLAYED ON JANUARY 7 AND 8. Only one forfeit this past week end; let's improve on this by having EVERYONE turn up after the holidays.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL
... 34 Teams EnteredGirl Hoopsters Play
Seven Game Season

• NOT ONLY have the Inter and Intra Collegiate Basketball teams for men started to play, but the girl's basketball team has started to practice.

Last year the girls had a very successful year in winning six games and losing only to Trinity College. Tryouts were held last week with the following girls making the team.

Forwards: Nancy Bealle, Dorothea Monroe, Ethel Tucker, Marylyn Greer, Barbara Baldauf, Shirley Smith, Helen Niles, Joann Phelas, Virginia Freeman, Sandra Sweadner, Elsie Braun, Mary Kovakas, Carolyn Munch and Judy Jeeves.

Guards: Loretta Lowe, Georgine Winslett, Jean Duff, June Goldstein, Margarche Dohling, Carol Dalton, Jo Peters, Faye Motyka, Judy Jaudon, Lee Chang and Joy Britt.

This year the girls have scheduled seven games, four to be played at the "Tin Tabernacle." The girls entertain Gallaudet College February 8, Trinity, February 29, and an intersquad game of the Buff versus the Blue March 8 and the final game is between the Varsity and the Alumni, March 14.

1955 COLONIAL SQUAD

On The Level

by Dick Siscoff

• TO SPORTSWRITERS, coaches, and anyone else who opines in the basketball polls, one team already this season is a standout, head, shoulders and waist, above all the others. I'm speaking of the men who wear the Green of San Francisco University.

They call themselves the Dons, these Wizards of the West, who rose from the relative obscurity of 18th place in one of the AP's earlier polls last season to the exaltation of NCAA champion and top team in the land at season's end.

In the ascent the Dons unveiled a secret weapon that gave them an immediate physical and psychological advantage over the opposition. Unwilling to give out his true identity, they killed their Don as Bill and Russell, but to no avail. Billy Russell is not the kind of secret that remains secret. Some folks conceded Russell to be an unfair advantage, for with him SFU, after a completely incongruous loss in its third game, blazed past the nation's finest to grab the big prize.

At Oklahoma City last December, in the 18th Annual All-College Tournament, the Dons whipped the Colonials in the finals. It was close and we weren't "on," but that doesn't alter their win. After that, they went right up the line until they got to LaSalle and Tom Gola in the NCAA title game in March. Now, Gola was—and is—certainly no ordinary ball player; rather he is usually classed as more than extraordinary. Russell made Gola look bad, and SFU walked on.

As an indication of this season's respect for the Greens, last week's AP poll saw 63 first-place votes cast for them as against only seven for runner-up Kentucky. Apparently the poll's participants feel there are two divisions in college basketball now—San Francisco then everybody else.

Russell, now a senior, is of course, the reason. He's got a good bunch of teammates, but he is the big man. Three times I have seen Bill play, and three times I have marveled. Russell is tall, closer to 6'11" than his program-height of 6'9", and he's a jumping fool (he can high jump 6'7"). He has uncanny and almost eerie judgment in shooting, and on defense he's like five spiders, arms and legs beautifully synchronized in blocking shots and harassing the opposition. And goals, can he rebound.

At first glance, Bill's arms look about five feet long apiece, and you'd think he had coil springs for legs. Russell pulled a stunt in Oklahoma City that will be hard to duplicate, unless some other team comes up with another human kangaroo like him. It was in San Francisco's semi-final game, a scrappy match with a lot of rebound competition. Naturally Russ was getting the lion's share.

Shortly after the second half began, Bill grabbed off a rebound under his own basket, and unable to pass figured the best place to get rid of the ball was through the cords. He leaped into the air, and with his back to the basket and with his shoulders ABOVE the rim, Bill drove the ball over his shoulder down through the net for the goal.

That's Billy Russell, and that's why San Francisco University is where it is.

It comes up tonight G. W. against West Virginia at Mike Uline's place, and the Colonials are out for blood. Twice last year the Mountaineers topped the Buff, the second coming in the Southern Conference title game in which Joe Holup suffered a chipped heel and G. W. suffered because of it.

We also suffered that night because of "Hot Rod" Hundley who makes it a point not to have a bad night against us. Hundley will be the visitors' chief attraction tonight, and well he should be. He's the best of the Mountaineers and one of the best around. Along with Holup, the Hot Rod is a pre-season All-American. Hundley tops terrific shooting with an ability to clown it up. He's trick shots, fancy dribbles, and all the rest of the ham motions. Trouble is, that Hundley likes to rub it in when he's got a good lead or the other team is out of class.

He rubbed it into the Colonials last year. They didn't like it. Tonight Holup is healthy; Fetacovich, Manning and Klein are revengeful. This is one game the Colonials want, and it should be one of the best of the season here. I advise you not to miss it.

Group Seeks Rowing Team

• LAST FRIDAY thirty-five students and guests met in Building C to hear and discuss the possibilities of having a Rowing Club at the University. The meeting came about through the efforts of three students, Ed Gresham, Sandy Morrison and Bob Moore.

The three had invited Mr. Jack T. Franklin, president of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, and also assistant coach of the George Washington High School Rowing Team to the meeting. Mr. Franklin discussed the problems and steps in starting a club. He explained that of the schools in rowing competition today, almost 90% are run on the basis of a rowing club. Whether or not the school pays for the team is something that must be worked out. He stated that Yale spends almost $80,000 per year in contrast to Stanford where the students even pay their transportation to the regattas.

Biggest Problems

Mr. Franklin explained that the two biggest problems the members of the club would have here would be the use of a boathouse and also to get a coach who could be available. The several boatclubs now functioning are vastly overcrowded.

Mr. Franklin also went on, through the request of the faculty adviser, Mr. De Angelis, and explained the elementary costs for a team. He said that he had already obtained the promises of Princeton and Harvard Universities each to donate a shell. He stated that there is only one manufacturer of shells in the United States, and with the freight charges from Seattle, Washington, the price of a new shell is $2,000.

Needs Oars

The team would need three sets of oars, which cost $300 a set brand new. He suggested that two sets could be used ones, but that the club would need one new set for races, as the oars do have a tendency of breaking if they are old.

After Mr. Franklin left, the students followed one of his suggestions in starting a club, and elected officers. The group responded to all the work that the original three had done and nominated them as officers, with Bob Moore as president.

The next meeting will be held Friday, January 12, at 2 p.m. in Building C, Room 1. Vice President Sandy Morrison said he hoped that anyone interested would attend.

• THE COLONIAL HOOPSTERS won't have much of a vacation as they play a full schedule of seven games over the holidays. The first one is a big one with last year's Southern Conference champions, West Virginia, tonight at Uline Arena.

The Buff is also host December 16 to the dark horse in the conference this year, Washington and Lee, at Washington and Lee High School. The next night the Colonials play the Keydets of VMI at Wakefield High School gym.

The Colonials will then invade Madison Square Garden in New York December 22 to play Manhattan College. The team returns home to meet a newcomer on the schedule—Wyoming, on the 27th at W. and L. High School. December 29 the Buff and Blue meets St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., in the opening game of the Maryland University tournament. The next day the Colonials will either play Michigan State or Maryland.

Tonight the Mountaineers of West Virginia with their candidate for All-American, "Hot Rod" Hundley, will come rolling in to try to defeat the Colonials for the third straight time. The Colonials lost once at Morgantown last year and again at Richmond in the Southern Conference finals, 54-48.

In both games last year the Hot Rod was the difference in the victories for West Virginia. The first time he scored 29 and in the championship game he poured 20 more through the nets. Known as a real basketball showman, Hundley is also a prolific scorer. He is currently averaging 27 points per game. West Virginia has won all three games they have played.

His favorite shot is a one-hand jump, although he is an excellent driver and likes to drive, stop and fade away with a rolling hook shot—with either hand. He shoots set shots with one hand and is regarded as "automatic" with either hand.

The Colonials will have an added incentive to stop him tonight as it will be remembered in last year's final he showboated just a little too much. He had two foul shots coming up, and hookshot one of them and tossed the other from behind his back. At the finish he was in possession of the ball, and before the gun went off he looped the ball over the rafters instead of shooting for the basket.

Last year he had the chance. That was when the Colonial All-American choice, Joe Holup, chipped his ankle with only five minutes gone in the game. The Colonial attack sputtered throughout the evening as they only could get 48 points.

The next team the Colonials face will be Washington and Lee. Last year their team improved vastly at the end of the year and this year these experienced men have been given the tag of dark horse in the conference. The Generals just dropped a game to West Virginia, 80-71 after leading the Mountaineers at half time.

Ex-Editor Picks Buff Over W.Va.

by Ed Jaffee

• TONIGHT'S GAME with West Virginia will go a long way toward determining whether the Colonials' season will top last year's or be another of the "almost-but-not-quite" variety. The sports scribes on the downtown papers would have us believe, as would the Associated Press, that Rod Hundley and his boys are favored to win their second straight, Southern Conference title.

The AP, in a story last week, played up the fact that Hundley, the junior ace, is averaging 27 points for three games. He is supported by 6'7" Bob Witting and others. The idea is for Witting and Hundley, 6'4", to bottle up Joe Holup and his 30-point average while "Hot Rod" works away at the baskets.

Strong Home Team

If you are a Mountaineer fan, the above information might be enough to make you run right out and put next week's pay on the line against the Buff. If, like most of us, you pull for G. W., you may take solace in the following facts—One: The Colonials are another of those teams that never seem to lose on their home court. Last time they lost at Uline Arena was the last game of the '52-'53 season, to Georgetown. It would be stretching the point, however, to mention that the last time these two teams met at Uline's G. W. won, 106-75; stretching the point merely because West Virginia did not have Hundley at the time.

Two: The Buff, despite the loss of Corky Devlin, Buzz Ciriello and Eddie Catino, are not so much weakened as might appear. Jay Manning has improved tremendously, from a spotty player last year to a consistent scorer and a help to Holup off the backboards in the three games this season. George Klein, who played a bit better as a sophomore than he did as a junior, seems to have fully regained his old form and is a steady influence on the court. The other guard, freshman Bill Telasky, is gaining confidence with each game and has averaged 12 points in three games. His quick reflexes make him an asset on defense as well.

"Joe Pet" Dye

Then there's Joe Fetacovich, who exudes potential and often lives up to it. For some reason, "Joe Pet" has not yet hit full stride. Those who followed G. W. in '54-'55 saw the 6'5" senior from Carbondale, Pa., run hot and cold, both in scoring and rebounding. The feeling here is that Fetacovich needs a "big" game like tonight's to get into the groove.

What it all adds up to is that the Colonials have a better balanced team than West Virginia, which must depend pretty much on Hundley, and that, augmented by the home court factor, we feel G. W. will surprise the unbelievers in the area tonight.
